Don't take our word for it.....

Jim Pool with JPDS has to say this about his 420 diesel:

"A couple of guys who know rigs have just loved the thing. I have to tell you, I forgot what it was like to run a rig that put texture to the gun the way this one does. Even with all of my experience I was still able to become a better and more efficient spray man overnight. I'm actually having fun on the job again, I know that sounds silly, but it's true and I haven't been able to say that in years. There is no fluff in what I say about this rig, it's as I've said before, to make money with a spray rig you've got to have 3 things; texture pressure at the gun, the volume of air to support all of that material and reliability in your machine. It's clear that we have all of those in our 420."

"I love the aesthetical design of the rig. The platform is twice as big as other rigs and holds more mud. I really enjoy the flex gun, texture strainer and the removable fuel tank. The paint job is superior and low profile makes it a great rig for towing and going around corners. When it's time for a new rig it will be another American Spray without a doubt"

"It's an A+ spray machine, my spray guys asked me why I have not purchased an American Spray Rig prior. I am saving at least $300 / week with my new rig because we don't have to overlap the texture like I used to do with our old machine. We are more efficient & faster at spraying texture now."

Hey Bill. I just did my maiden voyage with the new rig. WHAT A DIFFERENCE!!!! What would have taken me at least 2 or more hours with the old machine, I sprayed 3500 feet and was rolled up and gone in less than 40 minutes. The pattern was full and even and the homeowner was very impressed. Here's my take on the whole thing....I believe that my builders and homeowners deserve the very best that we can offer them. The AST machine delivers! I couldn't be more pleased with my decision to purchase the very best. Bye for now.

Hi Bill. Just wanted to share another success story with you. For some time now, I've been contemplating getting more involved in commercial work than I ever have in the past. And I've been in constant contact with one commercial contractor in particular working toward doing a project for his company. Through much negotiation, I landed the account and we are going to be involved in a 27 home subdivision and several other commercial structures their company is involved in. We will be doing the drywall and all painting. One of the questions he asked me pertained to which spray rig I used. I told him that I had recently purchased an AST 150 hydraulic. I took him to some of our local projects and even demonstrated the AST's superior performance on a texture application we were doing at the time. The contractor told me he had never seen such a rich, full and even spray pattern like the AST produced. I just know that my spray rig played a huge part in getting the account. For me, the spray rig did all the talking that was needed. Once again, having the right equipment made the difference. I'm always proud to tell my clients that I own an AST Spray Rig. The name itself is synonymous with quality and respect. Kind Regards, Bob Maddox.
